Thank You

Dear Northside,

How blessed we have been to know you. I want you to know I have never felt so surrounded by love as I was on Saturday as we said our good-bys, for now, to Mel. You helped all my family to get through our most difficult day with peace in our hearts.

*We love you,
Marie and Family*

Dear Ladies of Northside,

How can I thank you for all you've done? The B-B-Q was delicious as always, and the food you prepared was as usual wonderful. As I mentioned before, I felt your love on Saturday as a surrounding presence. God bless you in all your ministries. I speak to the Lord often on behalf of "my" ladies.

*I love you all,
Marie*

There are several who do not have their picture in the directory. Tobi will be taking pictures the next few weeks to try to make a new page for you who are not in the directory. Please talk to Tobi about when you would like to be shot. I mean photographed.

Our game night was not well advertised, but several of us had a great time Friday night. We're looking at the 4th Friday of February to do it again. Some have asked about a movie night. We'll plan to have one the 2nd Friday of February. I'll supply the popcorn, others can bring drinks, cookies, or whatever you want to snack on and share.

Just a word on the Bible reading schedule printed below. At times it will jump all over the place. That is because this list attempts to put things in the order they would have happened. This is an interesting way to read as you start at the beginning and work through the Biblical time line. It helps clarify some things, especially as it gets into the times of the prophets. I am not trying to overload anyone with reading. My first reading suggestion is to follow the Bible Study listed in our weekly hand outs. To those who want to continue a daily Bible reading as well as the study, then I am providing this Chronological reading.

–Blessings, Gene
